Date : 6th January 2016

Further to NTM 03/16 mariners are advised contractor North West Marine Ltd have lifted the existing walkway structure from between the inner and outer dolphin structures at Lochaline Ferry Terminal, Morven.

Prevailing inclement weather conditions continue to prevent this being further dismantled or moved off site, requiring it to remain temporarily deposited in shallow water at the rear of the breakwater structure in such a position as to not create a navigational hazard.

It is likely to be exposed at low water and when covered it is clearly marked by buoys at each end.

It is anticipated the barge will return to site in the near future at which time the walkway will thereafter be recovered and works continue.
